Green farm - Green life

About Us

<https://www.123farm.vn>

123 Farm is a soft-dried fruit manufacturer based in Lai Vung, Dong Thap — a peaceful and lush countryside in Vietnam's Mekong Delta, famously known for its tropical citrus fruits such as soursop, pink mandarin, sugar orange, kumquat, and more...

By leveraging the region's natural abundance and carefully selecting high-quality local fruits, we combine strict sourcing standards with unique processing recipes and a modern, closed-loop production system. This ensures that every product we create is not only flavorful and nutritious, but also contributes to a greener environment, enhances the value of local agriculture, and supports stable employment in rural communities.

Our products are designed with health in mind — delicious snacks that are good for you. Customer satisfaction is our top business priority.

Dried kumquat

- Made from 100% ripe, fresh golden kumquat

According to traditional remedies, kumquat steamed with rock sugar is a simple yet effective way to help relieve cough symptoms. The essential oils in calamansi stimulate the respiratory system, help loosen mucus, and support expelling phlegm thus easing productive coughs. Additionally, the natural fiber in kumquat aids digestion.

This product is soft, slightly tangy with a mild sweetness, and completely safe for your health.

- Only the finest fresh kumquat fruits – with thin skin and juicy flesh – are handpicked from trusted, high-quality farms. These are then gently steamed with rock sugar and pure kumquat juice using modern production technology. The result is a soft-dried product with a naturally fragrant aroma and a pleasant sweet-and-sour taste (low in sugar).

Made entirely from natural ingredients, this product contains no preservatives, no artificial colors, and is completely safe for your health.
